EXTEND THE LIFE OF YOUR ABRASIVES

WITH THE NORTON INTERFACE DRIVER PAD

The new Norton Interface/Driver pad line of products are designed to extend the life of both the abrasive as well as your machine driver plates. The pads are designed to attach directly to a hook driver plate on multiple head sanders with the loop side of the pad. The abrasive is easily attached to the hook side of the pads giving excellent protection to the machines driver plates.

The foam material is multi-functional. It absorbs heat that contributes to the wear of abrasives allowing the abrasive to cut for a longer period of time and softening the sanding action, resulting in a smoother scratch pattern. Available in 5 – 8 inches to cover most multi-head machines on the market our Interface/Driver pads are excellent for any hook & loop abrasive disc.
